

First Conditionals A2-B1 Test 3

1. She'd prefer him to go to the concert with her on Sunday.
 - A. She'd rather he goes to the concert with her on Sunday.
 - B. She'd rather he went to the concert with her on Sunday.
 - C. She'd prefer him going to the concert with her on Sunday.

2. I like swimming in the sea, but lying on a sandy beach is even better.
 - A. I like swimming in the sea, but I'd rather lying on a sandy beach.
 - B. I like swimming in the sea, but I'd prefer lying on a sandy beach.
 - C. I like swimming in the sea, but I prefer lying on a sandy beach.

3. I'd prefer you not to use my computer.
 - A. I'd rather you not use my computer.
 - B. I'd rather you don't use my computer.
 - C. I'd rather you didn't use my computer.

4. She would rather he stayed at home than go to a disco.
 - A. She would prefer him to stay at home than go to a disco.
 - B. She would prefer he stayed at home rather than go to a disco.
 - C. She would prefer him to stay at home rather than go to a disco.

5. Would you like us to bring a cake?
 - A. Would you rather we brought a cake?
 - B. Would you rather us to bring a cake?
 - C. Would you prefer us bringing a cake?

6. I'd prefer it if you hadn't spent so much money when you were on holiday. (There are more correct options).
 - A. I'd rather you didn't spend so much money when you were on holiday.
 - B. I'd rather you hadn't spent so much money when you were on holiday.
 - C. I'd prefer you not to have spent so much money when you were on holiday.

7. It would have been better if you had discussed it with me before you agreed.
- A. I'd prefer you had discussed it with me before you agreed.
 - B. I'd rather you had discussed it with me before you agreed.
 - C. I'd rather you discussed it with me before you agreed.
8. I don't want you to organise a birthday party for me. (There are more correct options).
- A. I'd prefer it if you didn't organise a birthday party for me.
 - B. I'd rather you didn't organise a birthday party for me.
 - C. I'd prefer you not to organise a birthday party for me.
9. If I could again, I'd prefer to have been a teacher rather than a vet.
- A. If I could again, I'd prefer to have been a teacher to a vet.
 - B. If I could again, I'd rather be a teacher than a vet.
 - C. f I could again, I'd rather have been a teacher than a vet.
10. I like more the city than the country.
- A. I prefer living in the city than living in the country.
 - B. I prefer living in the city to living in the country.
 - C. I prefer to live in the city to live in the country.